

What to Expect in New Employee Orientation

You will begin your employment at Compass Health Network with a two to three-day new employee orientation program, depending on your position. New employee orientation is designed to instill a sense of Compass Health Network's history, vision, mission, and culture, create awareness of overall expectations, review policy and procedures, and acquaint employees with the resources available for their professional and personal development. More specific orientation schedule will be provided upon hire. Each work program has special orientation and/or training programs that begin following new employee orientation.
